South Island robin: p 206.

South Island Robin (Kakariwai) Petroica australis australis (Sparman 1788), Endemic
28/3/1773 Dusky Sound, Fiordland

Sparman and Forster collected this robin at Dusky Sound (Hoare 1982). Both described it, but Sparman's description appeared first. Forster called it Turdus ochrotarsus. Gmelin also described it, based on Forster's specimens.

Stewart Island Robin Petroica australis rakiura Fleming 1950, Endemic
1950 Jacky Lee, Stewart Island

It was first recorded by J.G. Black in a paper published in 1872 recording "Birds shot between Port William and Port Adventure". Fleming (1950) distinguished it from the South Island Robin.
